Bevootech Announces Zoho Consulting Partnership

SINGAPORE: Bevootech, a Singapore-based CRM consulting and software company, today announced a partnership with Zoho on the Zoho Consulting Partnership Program. This partnership brings together Bevootech's decade of CRM consulting experience with Zoho's suite of products, with goal of increasing adoption of Zoho amongst Singapore SMEs.

"Zoho's suite of integrated applications covers every aspect of a company's operations, from sales and marketing, finance, email and collaboration, IT and help desk, to human resources. Zoho even has its own custom app builder tool for specific requirements. And while Zoho applications are comprehensive and powerful, it is delightfully cost-effective as well. We are excited to share with Singapore SMEs about the productivity that Zoho can bring." said Bryan Ho, Principal Consultant at Bevootech.

In addition, Bevootech announced a marketing campaign to offer the installation service of Zoho SalesIQ live chat to SMEs entirely free. "We want SMEs to experience the power of Zoho." said Bryan Ho, Principal Consultant at Bevootech. "And since Zoho SalesIQ has a free tier, we thought this would be a great starting point for SMEs to learn about Zoho and what it has got to offer."

Bevootech will provide service packages to Singapore SMEs for consulting, configuration, training and support of Zoho applications. Bevootech has targeted to hand-hold 1,000 Singapore SMEs to adopt Zoho in 2019.
